Who benefits from the BookTrust Christmas Appeal?

BookTrust's Christmas Appeal raises funds to send festive parcels to children from low-income or vulnerable family backgrounds, and supports our work throughout the year. This year, our festive gifts will be sent to children in care and will come as a surprise, and, for the fifth year, we will also give out parcels through other settings such as community food banks to help children in families facing challenging circumstances.

Why are you giving out book parcels?

Christmas isn't a magical time of year for all children. The festive parcels are sent to children who may not be looking forward to Christmas, to bring some joy to what can be a difficult time and for them to cherish for years to come. We know that for babies, children in their early years and up to the early teens, reading brings profound and wide-ranging benefits that can have a positive impact on children's lives. BookTrust provide book parcels year-round to support and sustain a lifelong love of reading.

What's happening this year?

Focus for 2025

This year, we will send out 18,000 book parcels in the run-up to Christmas. These will be sent directly to 8,400 children in care through BookTrust's Letterbox Club, and 9,600 will be distributed through community organisations including food banks in England.

We are asking for donations to ensure our work can continue at Christmas time and throughout the year. Children will receive a specially chosen book gift, including a poster and letter from a celebrated author/illustrator to enjoy and cherish at Christmas and for years to come. Donations can be made via our website and the appeal will be promoted through BookTrust's social media channels.
