

Aren't the Botanic Gardens BLOOMING beautiful, Ivy?

EXCUSE ME, reporters coming through!

COME ON, Grandpa. Let's follow them.

Can you see anything, Ivy?

Only lots of people!

Ivy and Bearlock need to find their way through the crowds. Can you help them?

Can you help Ivy and Bearlock solve the butterfly's riddle to discover Professor Birch's location?

Head to the place where there's tropical heat. Then skip past the little pond (don't wet your feet!)

Next, past the cacti - be careful of these! And then, through the flowers, that might make you sneeze.

Later, the winding path comes to a stop, Cross the green stepping stones, hoppity hop.

Delve through the bushes, orange and green. Finally! Professor Birch can be seen.

Just as Ivy and Bearlock had arrived, Beatrice had caught a whiff of REALLY delicious nectar.

Decode the bee's dance and help Ivy and Bearlock work out where Beatrice and her hive are going.

Don't worry,
Mr Buzzbee! We'll find Beatrice.
Come on Grandpa, I know where we need to go next.
