

Blasts From the Past with Maisie Chan

Activity 1:

If you could choose someone from history to spend a day with in your world, who would you choose?

I would spend the day with _____ because

Activity 2:

What would you ask about the time and place they have come from?

1.

2.

3.

Activity 3:

What would be the most important or interesting things for them to learn about your world?

1.

2.

3.

Activity 4:

Plan your day - what would you do together? What would they be most surprised by? What would they be most excited by? Is there anything about your world that they may find confusing?

	Where would you go	How they might feel
Morning
Afternoon
Evening

Extension:

A Day with my Blast from the Past

Create your own 'blast from the past' mini-story. Write a paragraph (or more) for each part of your day. Include...

- What you learn from your blast from the past
- What they learn from you
- What you disagree about
- What you have in common

Decide whether at the end of the day, your blast from the past chooses to stay in your time or return to their own.